

Keystone New Customer Announcement

Petersburg City Public Schools Joins the Keystone User Family Petersburg, Virginia—February 2008

Keystone Information Systems, Inc. is pleased to announce a new client relationship with the Petersburg City Public Schools in Virginia. On February 11, 2008, Keystone contracted with Petersburg to provide an integrated financial and human resource administration system.

Petersburg is located roughly 25 miles south of the City of Richmond. Petersburg educates roughly 4,800 students in grades K-12 and employs approximately 900 faculty and staff district-wide.

Petersburg will be implementing several modules from the SKools[™] product line including the core financials, requisitions along with KeyNet for web access, fixed assets, inventory, payroll, employee information, applicant tracking, leave/attendance tracking, salary tables, cost projections, substitute tracking, position control, and KeyNet for applicant web access.

Keystone would like to extend a public welcome and “thank you” to Petersburg City Public Schools and in particular to Tracie Coleman, Director of Budget & Finance who was instrumental in the proposal / evaluation process and will lead the implementation effort for district. We also wish to thank SKools[™] users for many positive and supportive references, especially Pittsylvania County Public Schools and Dinwiddie County Public Schools for their consistent support and willingness to host site visits.

Founded in 1975, Keystone Information Systems, Inc. develops comprehensive application software solutions for local governments and public school districts, with installations in 10 states.
